

Admissions

Here for you

A university education offers a dynamic learning environment, study abroad opportunities and unlimited career potential.

Whether you're here for a degree, professional development, or for personal enrichment, UNB gives you the solid foundation you need upon graduation to succeed in your chosen field.

When you apply to UNB you must have, or be in the process of obtaining, the admission requirements for the program of your choice. Please read these requirements carefully and follow the process outlined to ensure your application is complete.

A university education is an investment in your future. Check out our Money Matters section to read about the tuition fees as well as the different scholarships and financial aid available.

Want to learn more? Request a viewbook.

Undergraduate admissions

Interested in applying to UNB? You can apply online or download an application form and submit it by mail.

Late applications will be considered based on available program space.

Graduate admissions

You can learn more about applying to graduate school at UNB through the School of Graduate Studies site.